

MyFirstGame

An ordinary game plot.

Abstract

This is the plot of a simple and ordinary game, made just for learning purposes. It will be subdivided into chapters, so the development of the game becomes easier and clearer when reading it after a long time.

The idea of the plot is to represent a normal situation, in a normal place, with normal dialogues and a bit of spicy hidden messages.

Also, because the interface will be extremely simple, the plot will be adjusted to the gameplay so it would be even simpler than any of my other amateur histories. But I'll do my best!

Hope I have the strength of ending a project...

Wish me luck!

Note: I am not a writer or a game developer, so this is not what someone would call a “professional project”. Any feedback will be welcome if anyone plays this someday ;3

Chapter 1

Introduction

ACT 1, SCENE 1

[White text appears, letter by letter, in the middle of the screen. As it appears, it also makes a soft and comfy typing sound.]

PROLOGUE:

All starts with an infinite black background, with no history, with nothing else but an empty sea of possibilities... But as the infinite fills the emptiness, the idea, the white letters in front of the monitor, began to kill that 2D plane. All of that, to make it converge into a beauty, beauty created history by no one.

Into that emptiness now is a squared screen, delimited by it's own size and inside, a simple creation that records all into an ordinary book, in an ordinary world, with his ordinary freedom.

Now that I, the creator, killed the identity of infinity and created the creation; is time to me to disappear and let it be. Let it play. Let him by his own and his fully freedom.

ACT 1, SCENE 2

[The typing sound changes to another more light and less ominous. Also the background starts to blink slowly and softly.]

SHLY

(Moaning while the text begins to slide on the top of the screen.)

Whoa! What did happen?

(speaking to himself)

Such a dream... Is like now, after 22 years of being lost and not knowing what to do with my life, suddenly, I understand the purpose of the existence itself. And my mission!

[The scenario lights up and reveals the bedroom of SHLY and all his bedroom miscellaneous.]

SHLY

(Excited and yelling)

I will record all I see, all I do, all I feel; inside of this random book I have!
(Laughs maniacally)

MOM

(Far away yelling too)

Honey, prepare yourself and come down to breakfast. You are gonna be late.

SHLY

Ok mom! I'll go down soon.

(Speaking to himself)

Ok, I'll grab the notebook, a pen and a book to record while having breakfast...

[Complete freedom to choose the book before going down]

- History book. → Read act 1, scene 3, history 1
- Philosophy book. → Read act 1, scene 3, philosophy 1
- Empty notebook. → Read act 1, scene 3, Empty 1

ACT 1, SCENE 3, HISTORY

[After grabbing the book and going downstairs, SHLY sits on a chair in front of the table and starts eating.]

SHLY

(While eating)

¡Mhmm...! Such a tasty breakfast mom!

MOM

Thank you honey, always to thank that you appreciate the breakfast. But you don't have to say it all the mornings.

SHLY

I know, but is the truth.

MOM

Never mind.

SHLY

(While eating starts reading the first chapter of the history book.)
